

Track	Code Module	Module	Semester	Module short description
IFIN elective	FI513E	Islamic Finance	S9	Islamic Finance has gained significant attention amidst recent global financial market turbulence, showcasing its viability as a sustainable and ethically-driven alternative system of financial intermediation. This comprehensive course delves into the principles and practices of Islamic banking and finance, highlighting its commitment to sustainability and good governance. Join us to explore this dynamic field, understand the unique frameworks that set Islamic finance apart, and learn how it promotes ethical conduct and long-term sustainable growth.
	FI515E	Sustainable Finance	S9	Introduction to sustainable finance will help students to understand the concept of sustainability in investments based on economic and financial theory. The basic pillars of ESG will be presented as well as the structure of a sustainability report. Finally, a broad coverage is given of the different forms of sustainable investment and brief attention is paid to the evolving regulation on ESG and sustainable finance.